

WHEN IT COMES TO BRAIN INJURY... ...THE AGE IT HAPPENED MATTERS!

BRAIN INJURY * BRAIN CANCER * BRAIN INFECTION * STROKE

- ✓ Did you, a loved one, or client experience a brain injury event before age 22?
- ✓ Has that brain event had a lasting impact as an adult?

If this brain event causes lifelong limitations and you need support in areas such as self-care, getting around your home and community, learning, independent living, and financially supporting yourself, you may qualify for many services and supports.

These services are provided by Medicaid's Home and Community Based Waiver Programs – and are called Developmental Disability Waivers.

Learn more at www.dlcv.org/medicaid-eligibility-overview.

To apply for a Developmental Disabilities Waiver, contact your county's Community Services Board (CSB) Developmental Disabilities Intake Coordinator.

For help connecting to these services or if your waiver application is denied, contact dLCV at 800-552-3962 or www.dlcv.org/get-help.
